At the beginning of the present conference year the congregation of Le-Rosa Memorial Methodist Church resolved to raise $1,000 for the church debt, and the Ladies' Aid Society obligated to secure $350 of the amount.

The receipts from the entertainment given Tuesday and Wednesday nights realized enough to more than meet the obligation.

Information received here yesterday from Rev. E. E. Dudley, states that he will not return home before next week.

A social will be given at the residence of Dr. Fayville, on Poole street, at 8 o'clock to-night, when the following program will be rendered: Piano solo, Mrs. Wolcott; recitation, Miss Ellen Morein; vocal solo, Miss Carrie Lambert; piano solo, Miss Minnie Marowitz. the same place. This entertainment, which will be supplemented by choice musical selections, is entirely free to all. Members and subscribers of the Association can each secure two reserved seats free of expense at Y. M. C. A. office after 9 a. m. to-day.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY.

TREAT GIVEN BY THE W. C. T. U. LAST EVENING.

The spacious parlors of Mr. A. J. Francis' residence, No. 258 Granby street, were graced by a refined and cultured company of ladies and gentlemen from 8 to 11 o'clock last night, the occasion being a strawberry and ice-cream social, given by the Norfolk W. C. T. U. A musical and literary program of rare excellence had been prepared for the event, the participants being some of the best amateur talent in the city.

The selections rendered were from the brightest and best authors, and to say it was a rich musical and literary treat would be putting it very mildly. The well-rounded applause that greeted each performer attested the full merit of the entertainment.

Following was the program:
Prayer, by Dr. W. J. Young; piano solo, by Prof. Casey; song, by Mrs. E. M. Allen; recitation, by Miss Hart; duet, piano and cornet, by Mr. Grubb and daughter; dialogue, Widow Dot; song, by little Maud Vickhouse; recitation, by Miss Morien; piano solo, by Miss Crider; recitation, by Miss Addison; song, by Miss Denson; piano solo, by Prof. Casey.

At the close of the concert the guests repaired to the dining apartments, where they feasted on strawberries, cream and cake.

SHIPMENT OF OYSTERS.

OVER A MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS WORTH OF BIVALVES.

Statistician Dawes, of the Norfolk Board of Trade and Business Men's Association, has prepared some tabulated figures that are of great interest, as showing the importance of Norfolk's trade in oysters. The shipments from Norfolk from September 1, 1898, to May 1, 1899, were as follows:

Barrels and barrels, in shells, 13,916; gallons opened, 1,883,634; total in bushels in shell, 1,918,424 (shelled oysters estimated in bushels as in shell); value, $1,610,617.

These figures are for oysters shipped, and do not include the local consumption.

Shipment of Berries.

Berries are being shipped in large quantities now, but a Princess Anne county producer said yesterday to a Virginian-Pilot reporter that there was no money in shipping them. After paying for picking and crating and hauling, said he, at this end of the line, and freightage, drayage and commissions at the other end, we have nothing left, and may consider ourselves lucky if we do not have to put up money to meet expenses. The season being late was against us. Still we had better get a little out of the crop than lose it in its entirety.

Death of an Infant.

One of the three little sons born to Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe Tuesday night, died Wednesday night at the residence of Mrs. O'Keefe's mother, in Portsmouth. No hope of raising the little one was entertained from the first. The other two little admirals are apparently strong and healthy.

The Bee Hive.

We desire to call your special attention to the new advertisement of the Bee Hive, in to-day's issue. The best way to recommend this new store to your attention is to request you to read the advertisement. Prices speak for themselves. This store employs a number of Norfolk people, who will be pleased to serve you. Mr. Young, the gentlemanly proprietor, comes from Washington, and is an up-to-date business man. His advertisement will appear regularly in the Virginian-Pilot.

Eyes Examined Free.

Dr. A. Weck, manager of the optical department of the Gale Jewelry Company, will examine your eyes free. Defective vision and complicated cases specially invited to call.

Correction.

Mr. J. Moran, who is stopping at the Monticello Hotel, says the trunk found in the rear of Miller, Rhodes & Co. by Officer Nelson on Tuesday night, was an oversight on the part of their porter in leaving the trunk out, and not for the reason given in yesterday's paper.

Captain Pigman Leaves for Manila.

Capt. Pigman, who has been for some time the sole custodian in charge of old Fort Norfolk, left on Tuesday evening via the Chesapeake and Ohio for San Francisco, en route to Manila, where he will take charge of the U. S. S. Charleston as Captain.

Capt. Pigman was prominently connected with the construction of the battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge.

Trolley Cars Collide.

Trolley car No. 35 of the Brambleton line ran into car No. 111 at the corner of Main and Atlantic streets yesterday morning. The Church street car had slowed down to take on a passenger, when the Brambleton car, run by Motorman Kellam, collided with the forward car from the rear, tearing away a part of the platform of the front car. No one was hurt.

A New Pythian Lodge.

Colonel Walter A. Edwards, grand keeper of records and seals, received yesterday an application for the institution of a new lodge of Knights of Pythias at Pulaski, Va. He at once forwarded the application to Colonel Robert Catlett, grand chancellor, at Lexington, for his approval.
